

If not, he must die of starvation and sorrow.
Says the ant to the
cricket, "I'm your servant
and friend,
But we ants never borrow; we ants never lend.
But tell me, dear cricket,
Did you lay anything by
When the weather was warm?" Quoth the cricket,
"Not I!"

My heart was so light
That I sang day and night,
For all nature looked gay."
"For all nature looked gay".
" You sang, Sir, you say?

Go then", says the ant, "and dance the winter away".
Thus ending, he hastily lifted the wicket,
And out of the door turned the poor little cricket.
Folks call this a fable. I'll warrant it true:
Some crickets have four legs, and some have two.
